

DR. HENNING STIEGLITZ

battenfeld-cincinnati

Dr. Stieglitz studied mechanical engineering at the University of Paderborn, with a specialization in plastics technology. He has over 18 years' experience in extrusion business.

His employment history is as follows:

battenfeld-cincinnati, Germany, 2008 to present
CTO

In 2008, Dr. Stieglitz joined Battenfeld Extrusionstechnik in Bad Oeynhausen.

He was responsible for the technical department including R&D and the product group sheet/pelletizing/compounding. In the following years, he acted in different functions in the new formed battenfeld-cincinnati corporate association. Since middle of 2015, Dr. Stieglitz is the Chief Technical Officer of battenfeld-cincinnati Holding.

Krauss Maffei, Germany, 2000 to 2008
Technical Director

Dr. Stieglitz's professional career in the industry began in October 2000, at the machine manufacturer Krauss Maffei in Munich as project manager in procedural development. From October 2004 on, Dr. Stieglitz was the technical director of the extrusion department in Munich.

University of Paderborn, Germany, 1996 to 2000
Research Assistant

After receiving his diploma in 1996, he worked for four years as research assistant at University of Paderborn.

